

DEPARTMENT OF
CLINICAL RESEARCH

LECTURE SERIES 2024

WEDNESDAY, 28 AUGUST 2024

12.45 – 1.30 PM

Dr. Tomer Meirson, MD/PhD

“Missing data in clinical trials - where art thou?”

Dr. Tomer Meirson MD/PhD is an oncology resident and bioinformatician at the Davidoff Cancer Center, Israel. He received his PhD from Bar-Ilan University at the Medical Faculty.

He states that the reliability of medical research hinges on the transparency and completeness of data. Biases in data collection, analysis, and reporting can distort findings, leading to false conclusions.

In this DCR Lecture, the informative censoring in survival analysis and trends in reporting clinical trial protocols will be discussed.
